

Award for mall

Mantri Square in Bangalore, the largest mall in India, was adjudged the best retail project of the year at the Property Awards 2010 held in Mumbai recently.

The Property Awards 2010 recognises, honours and celebrates the achievements of all those individuals and organisations, which have made the real estate industry proud by their outstanding work. The awards, featuring 19 categories, cover all facets of the real estate industry.

The jury consisted of over 60 industry leaders from among real estate developers, property consultants and government advisory bodies amongst others.

Sushil Mantri, Chairman and Managing Director of Mantri Developers said: "This award is yet another testimonial of our commitment to excellence and superiority. The world class design and facilities offered by Mantri Square complements Bangalore's status of a "global city". Situated on Sampige Road Malleswaram, Mantri Square is spread over 1.7 million square feet, has over 230 retail outlets housing over 10,000 brands and 39 F&B outlets.
